EL VERANO RESORTS READY FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

Monday last, despite the adverse weather conditions, we took a spin in and around flourishing El Verano and found encouraging evidences of a prosperous season being anticipated and hoped for by the proprietors of the various resorts and business men generally.

El Verano Villa

Louis Lamotte, who conducts one of the most widely known and best managed summer resorts in the valley—El Verano Villa—is getting in readiness for the season's run. Painters are at work brightening the Villa proper, and other improvements which will add to the attractiveness of the place and contribute to the comfort and pleasure of his patrons are being made by Mr. LaMotte.

"If one could but judge that of the months to come by the business of March, than we could very safely be assured of an exceptionally good season," said the gentleman. "Up to the end of last week we entertained a greater number than during the same month of last year. The heavy rains which sent March out tempestuous rather than lamb-like quite naturally ended the early spring vacation."

The formal opening of El Verano Villa will occur the latter part of this month.

Villa Savoy

Villa Savoy is another El Verano resort which is being thoroughly renovated and put in first-class shape for the reception of spring guests.

Just a year ago, May 1st, L. A. Wachlin, a successful Vallejo business man, located in the Sonoma Valley, purchasing the resort which has done a thriving business and enjoyed a generous measure of popularity as the result of the excellent management and courteous treatment accorded patrons by Mine Host Wachlin and his worthy wife.

The optimism of the gentleman is infectious, truly, and it certainly was good to hear a business man on a rainy, disagreeable day aver himself satisfied with conditions and sanguine of an improvement this greatest and long-anticipated year of events.

"I like the Sonoma Valley and have no regrets at having become proprietor of Villa Savoy," said Mr. Wachlin to ye Index scribe. "We had a good run last season, and there is the best of reasons for believing that the resorts will have increased patronage and a longer season than last year. I look and am actively preparing for this Exposition year to be a busy one."

The opening of Villa Savoy will be held early in May.

The onslaught of Jupiter Pluvius decided the postponement of planned-for visits to other resorts until a later date.

Before returning, however, we learned that quite a number of

Real Estate Sales

Had been made of late by Thos. H. Baines, El Verano's reliable agent.

Mr. Baines is the representative of the Pacific Improvement Company of San Francisco and this firm has extensive holdings in El Verano. The sole agency has also been accepted by Mr. Baines for the Sonoma Grove Farms—the big properties of Mrs. Arthur Mosso. Some of the most fertile land in the valley is embraced in Sonoma Grove Farms, which are delightfully situated, of easy access to town and railway facilities. No more desirable home sites are available in the valley, hence the conclusion that hustling "Tom" Baines will be a mighty busy man with the influx of home-seekers.

Preparations for brisk trade are also being made by

M. F. Mullen and Sons,

Whose mammoth general merchandise establishment is having floor space and shelving stocked with up-to-date, staple goods. A refrigerator, eighty-four inches high, fifty inches wide, and forty inches deep, with a weight of one thousand pounds, has just been installed. This new accessory will prove a great convenience during the days when Old Sol has his innings.

The fair and honorable treatment given patrons, in conjunction with top-notch prices, have been the means by which Postmaster M. F. Mullen and son Emmet—principal manager of the store—have established its enviable reputation as one of the soundest business concerns in the valley.

The reappointment of M. F. Mullen as postmaster of El Verano is another evidence of Mullen capacity and a deserved recognition of competency. Since January, 1890—think of it! a quarter of a century!—Mr. Mullen has been a faithful servitor of Uncle Sam: rendering a service so valuable and appreciated by his constituents that the displacement of El Verano's much-esteemed pioneer resident from his official position has never been sought or wished for.

It might be added, too, that previous to his recent reappointment, Mr. Mullen passed the civil service examination with high honors.

Building Activity

Considerable building activity will prevail in our thriving little northern neighbor as soon as more settled weather conditions permit, and the lumber yards of the district are receiving big invoices to supply the numerous orders which are being placed. At a later date, with complete information at hand, El Verano will be again to the fore in our columns.

FIREWORKS AT EASTER.

Religious Festival at Florence Reminds American of Fourth of July.

Many strange Easter customs are found in Latin countries. In Florence it is the custom to extinguish the lights in all the churches on Good Friday as a symbol of the death of Jesus, the extinction of life. That this custom goes back to some Roman festival connected with the vestal virgins who kept careful guard over the sacred flames at the altars of their divinity is now believed by some historical authorities.

The lights having been extinguished, all is darkness and gloom until Easter Sunday. On that day the task of rekindling the flames is intrusted to one ancient family, the Pazzi, members of which carry flints brought from the holy land with which they strike the new spark. Lanterns are lighted and in this way the lamps are relighted in all the churches of Florence.

This, however, is not spectacular enough for the multitude. Therefore an enormous car is loaded with harmless explosives and hauled through the principal streets of the city. It is drawn by two milk white oxen especially bred for this purpose and reserved for it from year to year.

Finally the great car, looking like an enormous pagoda, is stopped in the square in front of the Cathedral of Florence. The car has been followed, of course, by an enormous crowd, which stands around it in the great square waiting impatiently for the "Scoppio del Carro" (Explosion of the Car).

Arrived on the square, a wire is led from the car up to the chief altar of the cathedral, and when the lamp is lighted on the altar a "dove," a traveling pyrotechnical device shaped like the bird of peace, is released, its fuse aflame. Swiftly it speeds down the wire, and as it strikes the car the dove explodes, setting all the fireworks in the car afire. Then comes the grand explosion amid the huzzas of the multitude, and Easter Sunday is ushered in to all Florence. There is little doubt that in this ceremony is a reminder of the ancient celebrations of the return of the sun to power, the real spring festival of the Romans.

Easter Day and Life.

It is characteristic of human life that its greatest day should be its saddest, full of suffering and sorrow. It showed how life in its essential nature was sad, but it was a day of hope, its sorrow full of promise, and this, too, is characteristic of human life.—Phillips Brooks.

The Resurrection and the Life

A Poem For Easter

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

[Copyright, 1915, by Associated Literary Press.]

"I AM the resurrection and the life."
So says the Living Christ who is within.
"I free the heart from discord and from strife.
I free the mind from error and from sin.
I bring the nations health.
I give the spirit wealth.
Upon the battlefield of self I teach the soul to win."

"RENEW," cries Nature when the year is young,
And when the Morn leads up her rosy hours
The same song by the Sun to Earth is sung.
"Renew," he chants, "your colors and your bowers.
Drink from your springs of dew.
Clothe fields and groves anew.
Reweave your robes and fill your lap with garlands and with flowers."

"REBUILD," says Life, "all things in which you dwell.
Repair Time's ravages from day to day.
Your house, dress, body and each outward shell.
Reclaim them from destruction and decay;
Your grounds and works reclaim,
Your calling and your fame.
Rebuild, replace, renew them all—Life knows no other way."

'TIS only God the Perfect alters not,
And Man, the innermost, His image true.
These changeless dwell in their immortal thought;
'Tis but their semblances grow old and new.
Their outer veils receive
This thought, and these they weave
And then reweave, a work of joy that lasts the ages through.

AND this is Resurrection, happy word!
The inner Christ, the Son, the Image True,
Be is the Builder On Him is conferred
The gift divine to render "all things new."
In His white spirit fire
Is burned each base desire
Until within some human veil the smile of God shines through.

THERE'S MY EASTER BUNNY

A QUEER EASTER CUSTOM.

In Warwickshire, England, Shakespeare's home county, there was observed from ancient times a queer Easter custom known as "clipping the churches." It is described by an old time writer as follows:

"When I was a child, as sure as Easter Monday came, I was taken to see the children 'clip the churches.' This ceremony was performed amid crowds of people and shouts of joy by the children of the different charity schools, who at a certain hour flocked together for the purpose. The first comers placed themselves hand in hand with their backs against the church and were joined by their companions, who gradually increased in number till at last the chain was of sufficient length completely to surround the sacred edifice. As soon as the hand of the last of the train had grasped that of the first the party broke up and walked in procession to the other church (for in those days Birmingham boasted of but two), where the ceremony was repeated."

Easter formerly witnessed many quaint customs in England, but most of them have died out in recent years

GENEROUS DONORS TO CUT-OFF FUND

From Secretary John F. Picetti of the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce we learn that the Black Point Cut Off Fund must be complete prior to April 12th, in readiness for filing with the Board of County Supervisors.

By completion is meant that all cash promised must be in the hands of the committee by that date. If contributors will note this fact and hand in (without further solicitation) the various amounts, the work of the committee will be materially expedited. Voluntary contributions to make up the deficit would also be appreciated, as time now is limited, and soliciting of late has been slow work owing to the disagreeable weather.

Last week, J. A. Landsborough secured a considerable number of contributions, and this week Theo. Keiser is actively circulating the document for signatures.

While the response on the part of Sonoma Valley residents has been generous and for the greater part given with hearty willingness, yet from time to time objections have been raised by citizens who do not believe the right-of-way of the cut-off should have been an expense of two thousand dollars to valley residents.

Perhaps, a lesser amount would have created better feeling, but the Index-Tribune has from the outset entertained the view that the men who must give large acreages for the highway should receive fair compensation for their property. As a matter of fact, the transfer is a business proposition pure and simple, and even though the highway increases the value of properties through which it passes, yet that is no argument why so many broad acres should be given gratuitously.

BILLS PASSED BY THE STATE LEGISLATURE

LAST WEEK was lively in the legislative session. There were no no thrilling incidents, but a number of important bills of general interest were considered and but few adopted.

The non-partisan bill, eliminating political parties from the ballot in California, for all except national officers, was the subject of considerable log-rolling on the part of its proponents and opponents in the Assembly.

Henry Ward Brown, of San Mateo, offered a number of amendments and spoke at length against the measure from a purely legal standpoint that there waa already a constitutional provision which made it mandatory on the legislature to enact such laws as would preserve the integrity of political parties At his conclusion Speaker Young, who had introduced the measure, took the floor to refute this statement and he was followed by others.

After sixteen hours of debate, the most determined fight and defense, the Young Non-Partisan Bill passed the Assembly by a vote of forty-eight ayes to thirty-one noes. Only one member was absent.

The convict labor bill, by Assemblyman Meek, of Butte County, had the floor. This bill provides that convicts in the State's prisons be put to work on the roads in the mountain counties where the taxable wealth will not permit of the construction of highways from the public fund. In other words, where the counties are too poor to build roads in the mountains where there construction is so extensive. Meek took the ground that such work would not only be of moral benefit to the convicts but would make them in a measure self-supporting and contribute greatly to the development of the State.

Organized labor fought the amendment; made a determined stand against the bill claiming there was too much free unemployed labor to permit the adoption of such a bill. The bill, however, was passed by the Assembly.

The State Federation of Labor met with several surprises last week. The first was the amendment of Assembly Bill Sixty-four, known as the "Spotters' Bill, which prohibits the discharge or discipline of any employee upon the report of an agent or detective without a hearing, if demanded, and being confronted with his accuser.

Labor had a strong lobby at the Senate Committee to urge the passage of the bill and after a lengthy discussion it was amended by striking out "being confronted with the accuser," the committee taking the position that the employer was the accuser, and that the bill as amended grantad what labor asked—a hearing. The labor lobby was insistent on its right to be confronted by the spotter but it was denied. The Assembly concurred Tuesday by a vote of fifty to one in the Senate's amendment to the bill, which gives an accused employe the right of hearing before discipline or dismissal. The bill now goes to the Governor.

Mrs. W. J. Cummings, of Santa Rosa, visited with her relatives in this city this week.

Miss Minna Colton, who for the past month has enjoyed a pleasurable visit with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Russell, will return to Oakland tomorrow.

Warren K. Brown has accepted a position with the Sonoma County Transportation Company, and for the present will reside at Santa Rosa.

Colonel Frederick Marsch (retired) of the United States Army, Edmumnd Stillman and Frederick Duhring, Jr., of the University of California, are being entertained at the Duhring home.

Miss Florence Greeu, a student at Lowell High School, San Francisco, is enjoying the Easter-week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Green. Miss Florence has as her guest, Miss Dorothy Lycette, of the metropolis.

Messrs. Jas. Maffei, M. Mangiante, James Modini, Jack Poulson, George Goess, E. Coates, Roy Pauli, Wm. Russell, Geo. Stickle, F. Rovai, Ralph Stillings, Peter Perazzo, Peter Marcucci, Arthur Taylor and Victor Vincent made up the party of Sonoma Moose to attend the "big doings" in Santa Rosa, Tuesday night, at which the membership of the antlered tribe was increased by seventeen. The local Moose reporta fine time, and the serving of a delicious chicken pie supper.

The many Sonoma Valley friends of Mr. and Mrs. Landers Stevens (Georgie Cooper) are extending cordial greetings to the clever couple, who have just completed an eight-months' engagement on the Pantages circuit. During that period two Eastern trips were made. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens and sons, Masters George and Jack, arrived Sunday evening, and are occupying their pretty bungalow at Boyes' Springs Park. Their friends hope to enjoy the dramatic talent of Mr. and Mrs. Stevens during their stay.

Mrs. J. Stackpole, who had for eleven years held a responsible position at the State Hospital at Eldridge, was tendered a farewell dinner by the attaches of that institution last week, prior to her departure for Chicago, whither she goes to make her home with relatives. Mrs. Stackpole resigned the position in which she gave efficient service for more than a decade of years because of her advanced age, the lady having passed the seventy-fourth milestone. The recipient of the honor was presented with a complete set of ivory toilet accessories in appreciation of kindnesses shown by her.

An interesting bit of news to a wide circle of friends at Eldridge and elsewhere is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Minnie Merritt and Wm. E. Crepo (nurse and attendant, respectively) of the State Hospital at Eldridge. The nuptials were solemnized in San Francisco last week, the happy twain quietly slipping away from their friends that the event might be characterized by simplicity. Mr. and Mrs. Crepo enjoyed a honeymoon trip in the Exposition City, viewing the wonders of the great fair. The bride and groom will continue to reside at Eldridge, where they are highly thought of and wished every happiness.

Sunday last, March 28th, was an auspicious day for one of the worthiest pioneer couples of the Sonoma Valley, the occasion being the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Manuel. The venerable couple began their half century of wedded life in Jefferson County, New York The past thirty-seven years have been spent in Sonoma, during which period of time Mr. and Mrs. Manuel have gathered around them a circle of friends whose sincerity and steadfastness contributes to their happiness in the twilight of life. The anniversary was commemorated most happily for Mr. and Mrs. Manuel at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Florence E. Cutter, who entertained at an elaborable supper. Covers were laid for twenty, and the guests included four generations of the Manuel family. The bride and groom of fifty years were the receipients of a "shower of golden" gifts as well as wishes for many more years together.

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER CITIZEN

The passing of Geo. W. Lewis at his home in Santa Rosa, during the early hours of Wednesday morning, brought profound regret to friends throughout the county, for but few men were better known or more highly esteemed.

The deceased was born in 1845, in Missouri, and in 1846 journeyed across the plains with his parents in an "emigrant train" to California. The pioneer party comprised Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, Mr and Mrs. N. Carriger (brother-in-law and sister to Mrs. Lewis), Colonel and Mrs. Tate, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart.

The Sonoma Valley was chosen by the home-seekers, and here the youth and early manhood of George Lewis was passed. Here, too, he was wedded to Miss Lyons, daughter of A. J. Lyons (a well-known Sonoma Valley pioneer, since deceased), who with a daughter, Miss Katherine, survive him.

In 1877, Mr. Lewis accepted a deputyship under Sheriff Ed Latapie, and later he was elected assessor of Sonoma County, serving in that capacity two terms. He was also postmaster of Santa Rosa under the Cleveland administration.

Mr. Lewis was a charter member of Santa Rosa Lodge of Elks, and was prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity, being a member of the Blue Lodge and Royal Arch Masons.

The sterling worth and genial personality of the deceased won for him general public esteem and the friendship of all who knew him well.

Besides his widow and daughter (whose home is in Santa Rosa), a sister and brother—Mrs. James H. Albertson and Joseph Lewis of this city—mourn the demise of their beloved relative.

The remains of the deceased were brought to Sonoma and laid to rest yesterday (Friday) afternoon in the family plot in Mountain Cemetery.

Mrs. Kate Griffith transacted business in Santa Rosa lon Thursday last, and Friday visited Napa City.

OIL SPRAYER FOR SONOMA VALLEY

Monday last, Supervisor Harry J. Weise placed an order with Jasper Patrick, of Napa, representative of the Austin-Western Road Machinery Company of Los Angeles, for an Austin Pressure Oil Spraying Machine.

In company of Roadmaster Chas. Potter and Mr. Patrick, the roads in this district were gone over by Supervisor Weise, Monday, and from these gentlemen we learn that satisfactory results are anticipated in the laying of dust by the use of the machine, which is guaranteed to distribute oils and tars of liquid consistency, in quantities from one-tenth to one gallon per square yard with the same set of nozzles, insuring even distribution.

Moreover a street that is being oiled with an Austin machine does not have to be closed to traffic but can be used as soon ss the spreader has finished its work, as there is no surplus oil left floating on the suaface.

The machine will arrive within a fortnight, it is expected, and the first try-out will be on Broadway. It is hoped that a goodly supply of dust will have gathered on the thoroughfare to help along the test.

VINEBURG

Fred Batto transacted business in Santa Rosa on Wednesday.

M. Dittman, of the Sperry Flour Company, transacted business at Batto's Spur, Tuesday last.

Howard Knight was a Vineburg visitor, on Monday last, shaking hands with his numerous friends.

Mrs. A. W. Lehrke and son, Master Henry, are guests at New Vineburg Inn and Los Amigos this week.

Miss Hilda Ohlson, of San Francisco, is the guest of Mrs. A. W. Lehrke at Los Amigos and New Vineburg.

Cedric Cutter, a native son of Vineburg, but now a business man of the Bay City, was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M Cutter, several days this week.

Miss Mary Batto and neice, Miss Norma Figone, of San Francisco, after a two-weeks' visit at the John Batto residence, returned home on Wednesday.

Frank C. Rhode, of the Vineburg Hatchery and Poultry Yards, on the Hyde Tract, is now engaged in shipping 6,000 baby chicks to Salt Lake, Utah.

Mesdames Thomas Lentz of San Francisco and Geo. Leahough of Oakland are the guests of their sister, Mrs. Henry Forni, this week, at "Silver Terrace."

Vineburg had its usual number of visitors on last Sunday for this time of the year, and taking the weather into consideration the burg presented a lively appearance between trains.

On the morn of March 30, 1915, the Stork soared over the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Rhode, on the Hyde tract, and now a lovely, bright-eyed native daughter sings "Home, Sweet Home."

We have the pleasure of receiving a letter from our old friend, Harry Brandt, first assistant engineer on the A. & H. line of freighters, which was dated from Philadelphia and conveyed the good news that the Sonoma boy is all right.

On Monday last, Superintendent Van Gundy, of the Sonoma Valley Canning Company, shipped from the Batto warehouses one hundred cases of choice tomato sauce, consigned to the Anderson Grocery Company of Oakland. Mr. Van Gundy has many orders to fill.

Miss Rose Basaglia. of Sonoma, the popular young assistant bookkeeper of John Batto & Sons. accompanied by her sister, Miss Anita, visited the Exposition City the week-end, and after spending a pleasant time returned to her desk Monday.

Chief Engineer Harry H. McPherson and assistants, M. H. Potter, R. M. Colton, A. Stangberg and Albert Bennett, of the State Highway surveying corps, who were guests at New Vineburg Inn, have finished their work for the present in this part of the valley, leaving Thursday morning.

Vineburg can surely boast of one thing and that is it has a fearless marshal. His name is Enrico Forni and on Saturday last a member of the I. W. W.—"I Won't Work" order, presented himself and obtained a job sweeping the fog off the tops of the box cars. After working fifteen minutes, he went on a strike and demanded five cents a minute for his work, declaring that, if he did not get it, he would "submarine" the burg. Marshal Forni was called up on the long-distance 'phone and arrived just in time to save the burg. When he showed the villian his beautiful "Standard Oil Company's star and ordered "Weary Willy" to "beat it," the villian lost no time and in a little while made a hole in the distance. Yes, our marshal is brave. He would just as soon "live as die." No, Mr. Miller, you cannot buy that star.

EASY JIM.

Mrs. J. A. Landsborough left, Monday, for a visit with relatives and friends in and around San Francisco.

F. Mornement, who holds a responsible position at the Exposition, spent the week-end at his ranch here.

On Easter Sunday will occur the golden wedding anniversary of our highly respected residents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Church, and the memorable event will be fittingly celebrated at the delightful suburban home of the fortunate couple who have enjoyed the rare happiness of half a century of wedded companionship. The worthy couple are being showered with congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bennett entertained the "Jolly Twelve Whist Club," last Saturday evening. The guests numbered about twenty-fiv and were unanimous in expressing their appreciation to the very hospitable host and hostess for an evening of exceptional enjoyment. The occasion, too, was of marked importance to Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, since the event was the first given in their new home—a housewarming, as it were. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have a wide circle of friends hereabouts, who wish for the estimable couple much happiness and prosperity in their pretty home.

HAPPY JACK.

CONTRACTS LET ON BULOTTI BUILDING

The construction of the splendid building, to be erected by Fred Bulotti, will be commenced next week, weather permitting. From Mr. Bulotti we learn that supplies are in readiness.

Jos. B. Small, Sonoma's veteran and reliable builder, has the contract for the carpenter work on the building, while the brick work is to be done by W. L. Nagel of San Francisco.

The mill work will be furnished by A. W. Adler, whose big plant turns out the most artistic of finishings. Oregon pine for the most part will be utilized in the interior. The completion of this building will be awaited with interest by the public, since it adds another splendid and substantial improvement to the business part of our city, and is another evidence of the increase of the spirit of progress.

Worthy of Patronage.

Last week Emil Segourment and Alphonse Dumas took over the Sonoma Pool Room, located on Napa street, near the post office building.

Through the columns of the Index-Tribune, these gentlemen solicit your kind patronage.

SAL'S PICK-UPS

Gathered in and Around El Verano

[SPECIAL BY LEASED WIRE, THE SHORTEST IN THE WORLD.]

Attorney Frank Sprague was in town one day last week on a hoss case.

Len Tyler, first assistant engineer on "The Star of Russia," has gone to Alaska on a six-months' cruise.

That old saying, that "March comes in like a lamb and goes out like a lion," seems to be about it in 1915.

Quite a few of the boys are smoking A Dollar Cigar now-a-days. By-the-way, this is not the price of the cigar, but is the name of the pensive weed. A jitney per is the price of it.

Louis Kearney, the well-known proprietor of The El Verano Lumber Yard, went to San Francisco, Monday afternoon, via the North-Western Pacific. He returned home Tuesday evening on the same route.

Fishing licenses for citizens, residents of California, over eighteen years, one dollar per year; non-residents of California, over eighteen years, three dollars per year; aliens over eighteen years, three dollars per year. All persons under eighteen years exempt.

Joe Hayden, the lone minstrel, claims the honor of composing that old-time, popular song, "There'll B a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight." He says he was robbed out of this song. Joe is a comedian of the old school and in his palmy days, in days gone by, Joe could deliver the goods, blackened up or otherwise, and, by-the-way, Joe is still there.

John McCabe is a ranch-hand, on a dairy ranch, far back in the mountains. John came to town, the other night, to transact some business, but forgot to tie his horse, which was attached to a cart. The horse became frightened at the "band," which was out practicing, and beat it at a 2:40 clip homeward John did not transact his business, but had a hike of about eight miles in a heavy rainstorm. When he arrived home, he found the horse and rig none the worse for the experience.

SAL SALARATUS

MRS. C. POPPE TO BUILD POST OFFICE

The removal of the local post office is no longer a subject of conjecture but an accepted fact.

A letter from the Post Office Department at Washington, dated March 25th, was received by Postmaster John D. Wagnon, Tuesday, conveying instruction for the delivery of a letter accepting a proposal to lease post office quarters, and authorizing the removal of the office into the new quarters as soon as they are ready for occupancy, "unless the quarters now occupied are under lease, in which case the office should be moved at the expiration of the present contract. As there is no appropriation from which to defray the cost of moving, it must be done without expense to the Department."

In the matter of removal expenses, it may be remarked that Postmaster Wagnon will incur no expense, since only his personal equipment is to be moved. The general post office furnishings are the property of former Postmaster J. M. Cheney.

The new post office is to be erected by Mrs. Catherine Poppe, and the work of construction has been awarded to Contractor Ralph Murphy. From that gentleman we learn that work will be commenced immediately on the building, which is to be a one-story concrete structure.

THE W. J. KISTLE FEED STORE SOLD

Tuesday last the Sonoma Feed Store was purchased from W. J. Kistle by the Geo. H. Croley Company, Inc., of San Francisco, one of the longest established and most reliable concerns of the kind in the State.

F. L. Trimble, secretary of the Croley Company, and F. L. Hall, traveling salesman—both of whom are well and favorably known in the Sonoma Valley—represented the purchasers in the transfer.

The Croley Company has secured for local management of the store the services of E. T. Lindley of San Francisco, who is an egg expert of State-wide reputation. Previous to his acceptance of his position in Sonoma, Mr. Lindley was giving demonstrations along his specialized line of work in the San Francisco Auditorium.

The Index-Tribune is pleased to note and the poultry raisers of the valley will learn with satisfaction, that Mr. Lindley has consented to provide for these columns a series of articles of inestimable value to the producer and to the trade.

K. M. Swearingen, of Los Gatos, will assist in the conduct of the store for several weeks.

Mr. Kistle retires from business enjoying the highest esteem and confidence of he public. Promptness, uniform courtesy and square dealing were the governing principles of the Kistle Feed Store, and these will be maintained under the new management.

ENGAGES IN BUSINESS

M. E. Cummings, who for many years was engaged in the butcher business in this city in partnership with S. B. Lewis, has purchased a business of like nature in Healdsburg. The host of Sonoma Valley friends of our former public spirited citizen and zealous mayor hope his new venture will prove a success. "Mike" will certainly find his "lot has been cast in pleasant places." as Healdsburg is one of the best towns in everywise in Northern California.

Big Hatch of Fine Chicks

F. C. Rhode of the Vineburg Hatchery and Poultry Yards is a busy man these days, his closest attention being demaded in looking after his incubators which contain 12,500 eggs. One-half of these are expected to hatch by Easter Sunday.

Two thousand baby chicks are thriving in the brooder house, and the happy cackle of 1800 full-grown hens is to be heard as they roam the seven broad acres which comprise the Rhode yards.

The Penn System Brooders are used, whose air-tubes are heated by oil burners. These brooders are manufactured in Petaluma, and thus far have given satisfactory service.

The stock of the Rhode yards is made up almost entirely of South Carolina White Leghorns, as Mr. Rhode pins his faith to this breed of poultry as giving the best general results.

As a matter of fact, the success achieved by Mr. Rhode is to be attributed solely to his careful, competent management and thorough knowledge of the business.

On Easter Sunday a RAVIOLI DINNER will be served at the El Dorado Hotel. As Mr. and Mrs. Quartaroli have the reputation of making these appetizing feasts to the "queen's taste." The El Dorado will most certainly do a "land office" business during the dinner hours tomorrow.

HELP FOR BLACK POINT CUT-OFF

The following letter, received recently by Dr. A. M. Thomson, president of the Sonoma Valley Chamber of Commerce, is self-explanatory:

SAN FRANCISCO, MARCH 4, 1914
DR. A. M. THOMPSON,
SONOMA, SONOMA CO., CAL.,

Dear Sir:—I note an article in the Inex regarding the proposed Black Point Cut-Off.

While the committee in charge have perhaps never been officially notified it has always been my desire and intention to offer a right-of-way for this line through my property, and, with this assured, it may be possible for you to cut down the length of right-of-way necessary through the various properties, which requires the expenditure of some two thousand dollars to purchase.

The benefits which will accrue to all from such a road are unlimited and it is hard for me to understand how any public-spirited business thinking man can hold back for a puachase price.

Will you kindly see that this reaches the proper authorities, and at the same time I would be interested to know what progress is being made and if I may be of any further service to those who have the project in keeping.

Very truly yours,
MRS. WALTER DICKSON.
